LOCAL NEWS.

F. E. Kinney's feed store will be reached hereafter by calling up telephone No. 133.

All the factories of the city observed Thanksgiving by closing down for the day.

D. G. North has accepted the position of book-keeper in the lumber office of L. E. Woodard.

P. V. Botsford, formerly living near Pittsburg, has leased his farm and is moving into this city to live.

A new steel roof is being placed on the blacksmith shop at the Castree & Shaw factory this week.

The Estey Carriage Co. has its new boiler in position and will start up again Monday with a large force.

The plumbers are still rushed with work making sewer connections both for business places and residences.

The Casket Works engine broke down last Saturday, but after a few hours lay off operations were resumed.

The Shiawassee Iron & Engine Works made their first casting Saturday at their new foundry, on Comstock street.

Rev. A. T. Waterman, well known in this county, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Nashville (Mich.) Congregational church.

Mrs. A. M. Lake, who has been under the care of a doctor in Flint for cancer of the stomach, was brought to her home in this city, Monday.

The M. C. morning passenger train from the north now arrives at 8:53 instead of 8:02 as formerly. It now meets the passenger train from the south at this station.

The Estey factories closed down Saturday afternoon on account of the death of Guy, the youngest son of vice president Julius B. Estey, of Battleboro, Vt.

Ed Broeffle, who was badly injured a few weeks ago while at work in the Ann Arbor yards, was down town last Saturday for the first time. He is rapidly regaining his former good health.

A number of machines are being taken from the Owosso Mfg. Co.'s plant in this city and are being shipped to their new factory in Arkansas. The machines taken from here will be replaced by new ones.

Mrs. Julia Sharts has for several years generously made a gift of five dollars each year to the Ladies' Library. This year she makes it ten dollars, and the liberality is highly appreciated by the library members.

Two large staining vats have been set up in the screen door room of the Owosso Mfg. Co.'s plant. The company is preparing for the season's run on screen doors and window screens, which will begin about January 1st.

The fourth game of indoor ball was played in the armory Wednesday evening. The score stood, at the end of the game, O. L. L., 10; Car Shops, 11. A good game was played and a large interested crowd witnessed it.

On Tuesday L. E. Woodard completed arrangements with a Grand Rapids firm to equip his factory with a blower to carry away the dust and shavings from the carvers and planers. Work will be begun upon it the first of next week.

Taxes will be due on Wednesday next.
The new city hose cart will be ready for delivery to the city next week. Stegall & Co. have done a good job and the wagon is a handsome one of the latest style.

The contract for the three story brick block has been let by Mrs. F. B. Taylor to William Burk, of Muskegon. The building is to be completed by February 1st.

An important business meeting of the First Congregational church and society will be held on Monday evening next in the church parlors. A large attendance is desired.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Watson, of Utica, N. Y., stopped in Owosso Tuesday and Wednesday to do business with Hamblin & Crawford. They are on their way to San Diego, Calif.

G. B. Daniels, a brother of H. H. Daniels, was in town Tuesday and Wednesday, visiting his relatives. Mr. Daniels is president of the wholesale lumber firm of Daniels & Collins, of Pittsburg, Pa.

Rev. R. C. Crawford, of the Michigan conference, occupied the pulpit in the First M. E. church, Sunday evening. Mr. Crawford used one of the same subjects that he preached from in an old school house in Owosso, 54 years ago.

A club to be known as the Alaskan Pedro Club was organized Friday evening, at the home of Webb Ampoker, with Mrs. Ampoker, president, and Mrs. H. Thomas, secretary. A dainty lunch was served and an enjoyable evening had by all.

Dr. F. Sellick was in Detroit Wednesday completing arrangements for the publication of his new ballad, entitled "Mame Lee, Cress the Sea," which will appear upon the market next week. It is a very beautiful song, to be sung with waltz refrain.

A. Stegall has just completed an important addition to his machine shop. He has built a forge shop, cupola, and moulding room and is now in shape to make his own castings instead of being obliged to wait for others. The cupola was fired for the first run Saturday morning.

Of the Owosso boys at the University the following are home for the Thanksgiving vacation: Cland Bentley, W. H. Brown, H. O. Comstock, T. E. Carmody, A. A. Crawford, R. H. Daniels, E. H. Jacobs, W. D. Kilpatrick, Frank Cooper, W. E. Sullivan, R. C. Mahaney and Joe Osburn.

Eastern Star lodge officers are to be installed on Tuesday evening next. The following grand officers are expected to be present: Matron, Mr. Ida Jocelyn, Northville; past matron, Mrs. Lydia Pratt, Jackson; past patron, Fred H. Horsford, Grand Rapids. The exercises will be followed by a banquet.

Rev. and Mrs. C. V. Northrop entertained Mrs. Northrop's Sunday school class of young men Wednesday evening. The evening was passed in a very pleasant way and before leaving refreshments were served. Sandwiches, coffee, cake, and ice cream met with a hearty reception from the boys, who pronounced the event a thorough success.

On Saturday Miss Minnie Ackerman, 215 Stewart street, filed a claim with City Clerk Edwards, against the city of Owosso for $3,000. She claims damages for spraining one of her ankles by falling on a broken sidewalk, on Stewart street, near Watson street, on the night of November 3d, 1897. Watson & Chapman are her attorneys, and Dr. B. S. Knapp her attending physician.

The K. O. B. club was delightfully entertained Wednesday evening by the Misses Mame Hoyt and Mame Lewis, at the home of Elmer Cheney, on River street. Dancing and cards were indulged in till a late hour. After partaking of the dainty refreshments, prepared by Mrs. Cheney, the young people took their departure, well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

R. N. Parshall has his new flouring mill on south Washington street nearly ready for the machinery, a part of which is already here. All three stories of the mill are finished in planed and matched pine and all woodwork is painted white. The machinery is of the latest design throughout. Power will be furnished by a fifty horse power electric motor. The equipment will be first-class throughout.

Saturday morning engineer Robert Kerr, of the Grand Trunk road, who lives at 400 Michigan avenue, this city, met with a very painful accident while oiling his engine in the Detroit yards. He was somewhat rushed for time so did not notice the "clink-pit" over which he was standing. He accidentally stepped in the pit and fell four and one-half feet to the bottom, fracturing the hip and knee joints. Mr. Kerr was brought to his home Saturday where he is being well cared for.

The adjourned examination of Albert Peterson for abduction was resumed in Justice McCaughna's office, Saturday morning. When brought upon the stand Peterson said he would produce the child if he was allowed to go free. When told that the child had been found and that he would have to stand a trial, Peterson for the first time seemed to realize his position. He was bound over to the circuit court under $500 bonds. Not being able to procure the necessary bonds he was taken to Corcoran to await trial.

The interest in the lectures of Prof. Sparks is rapidly increasing. Last Friday evening a crowd, larger than that of any previous evening, greeted Mr. Sparks when he lectured upon Robert Morris and what he did for the continental congress in the work of raising money. The speaker in a forcible manner put before his audience the difficulties arising from the want of money to carry on the Revolutionary war and the part Morris took while acting as financier. He thought a monument ought to be erected in memory of this financial Noah. The next lecture will be on Alexander Hamilton, which will include the first ten years of the financial history of the country.
